CHI Health Clinical Colors by Discipline

One big way we help patients is through our professional attire. Consistency and coordination of our professional appearance helps patients and families identify their caregivers. Our clinical attire guidelines require professional clinical groups to wear ID badges along with designated colored attire. By making it easy for patients to identify our expertise we build their trust, empower them to engage in their care and improve their safety and experience.

Effective July 1, 2017, CHI Health clinical staff will have consistent scrub colors by discipline. New scrub colors were announced in July 2016 to allow staff time to plan for the transition.

Clinical Attire Guidelines

Scrub Tops and Scrub Pants

- Each clinical discipline has one designated color of scrubs.
- It is highly recommended that scrub tops and pants are from the same vendor.
- Scrub tops, scrub pants, and scrub jackets must be the same color.
- CHI Health logo is not required on scrub tops, but is highly encouraged.
- Personalization, such as employee name and credentials, may be placed on the upper right chest area of the scrub top in white.

- Shirts worn under scrub tops:
 - May be short or long sleeved.
 - Color must match the scrub color OR be black, gray or white.
 - Must be a solid color with no patterns or prints.

Shoes and Socks

- Any style of shoe is permitted as long as they are closed-toe and meet clinical department guidelines.
- Any style of socks/nylons are permitted.

General Information

- Employees who work in more than one discipline should wear the scrub color of the discipline they are working for the day.
